

PROMOTIONAL NOTE

Iwona Loranc & Grzegorz Tomczak

Literary song built on words, melody and direct encounter

For many years Iwona Loranc and Grzegorz Tomczak have worked in the world of literary song, where the text and its meaning are of undisputed importance. Their lyrics reflect both on the great world around us and on the small, private world within each of us.

Music is equally important: original melodic lines and subtly jazz-inflected harmony remain close to the tradition of song, far from verbal clichés and effects that obscure meaning.

The listener and viewer remain central. The essence of these concerts is direct contact with the audience: attentive, warm and genuine.

Concerts by Iwona Loranc and Grzegorz Tomczak are encounters with songs that never raise their voice, yet stay with the listener for a long time.
